

naa

North America
Administrators

Bruce Thompson | Vice President of Sales

Every day Bruce Thompson puts more than 30 years experience to work for NAA clients. His career began in the early 70's with a major insurer, where he rose through the ranks to Division President. His years in the insurance industry provided the skills and expertise to simplify health plan benefits for you. Bruce's commitment to service is a compliment to NAA's experienced management team because he's dedicated to making sure you receive the attention you deserve.

Based in Nashville, a haven for healthcare companies, NAA provides the expertise, resources and commitment required for superior health benefits administration. Since 1971, businesses across the country have looked to NAA for customized self-funded employee health plans to optimize healthcare benefits for their employees. NAA's clients have grown to depend on their team to manage healthcare claim costs and reduce related expenses by monitoring eligibility, adjudicating and paying claims, and providing meaningful data analysis to help conserve healthcare resources.